Goal What they want	Find a simple, natural way to support healthy cholesterol.	Know how Bios Life C works and what it does for me.	Be sure it is safe for me and my medication.	Get access to ordering with little effort.	Pay a clear price with a familiar payment method.	Know when my order will arrive.	Take it at the right time, 3 times a day, without forgetting.	Reorder before running out, and get help when needed.
Actions What they do	Hears about it from a member, opens the app and scans the screen.	Plays the video, reads features, benefits and how it works, browses photos.	Reads key ingredients and supplement facts, checks the warnings.	Signs in, creates an account or continues as a guest.	Adds to cart, enters an address, picks delivery and payment, reviews, places the order.	Opens order tracking, calls support if something looks wrong.	Follows the mix steps, takes the shot each serving, logs water, sets reminders.	Opens My orders to buy again, contacts support from Menu or Account.

Questions What they may ask	"What is this, and is it natural?"	"How can Ben help my cholesterol?"	"Can I take it with my medicine?"	"Do I have to be a member to buy?"	"How much is shipping, and can I pay by QR?"	"Where is my order now?"	"When exactly should I drink it?"	"When will this box run out?"
Emotion Expected, to validate	Curious → Interested → Unsure → Positive → Confident → Waiting → Excited → Loyal
Pain points Seen on today's product page	The key message sits inside a long desktop page, with small text on a phone.	Long paragraphs at one text weight, and no quick facts to scan.	The ingredient list is cut off mid-word, and the facts table is an image.	Enroll and register lines are tucked into the header and footer.	The page offers only a Shop link, checkout steps and costs aren't visible up front.	Help is limited to a phone number and email in the footer.	Timing rules (5–10 min before meals, 1½ or 4 apart from medication) are buried in text.	Nothing tells customers how long a box lasts or when to reorder.
Design response How the app answers	First-screen states "all-natural fiber drink", "Ben helps with cholesterol" and "Shop, guest option all. Welcome."	Video first, short cards and benefits, then "How it works" in 3 packets, 15 sachets, 2 g a Day.	Ingredients grouped into 4 sets; supplement facts and warnings; caution card for medication.	Clear Create account, Sign in and Continue as guest; Sample ID optional.	3 easy progress bar, running total in the action bar, Edit links on the review screen.	5 step timeline with estimated dates, and a direct support number on the same screen.	Daily tracker, How to mix steps, and clear reminders 5 or 10 minutes before meals.	My orders in Account and Menu, Reorder in one tap, and a "Bios Life C about 20 sachets last about 20 days" at 3 a day.
