UX RESEARCH · OONJAI LIFE

UX research plan & hypotheses

What we need to learn about buying, paying for and claiming on life insurance, how we will learn it, and how each hypothesis shaped screens S01–S25.

● Hypotheses · to validate with users

RESEARCH GOALS

- Understand why working adults delay buying life insurance, and what finally makes them act.
- Learn what makes buying a policy online feel safe enough to finish without an agent.
- Find where paying premiums and claiming break down, and what people need to see to stay calm.

KEY QUESTIONS

- Which words and plan types do people misunderstand when comparing plans?
- How much price detail do people need before they will start an application?
- Which health questions cause doubt, and what happens when people are unsure how to answer?
- Which payment method do people trust for a yearly premium, and why?
- What do people expect to see between filing a claim and getting paid?

TARGET USERS

Thai adults aged 25–55 with people who depend on them, who manage money on their phone.

Segment A	Segment B	Segment C
Young parents	First jobbers	Existing holders 45+

METHODS & 6-WEEK PLAN

METHOD	WHO / WHAT	SIZE	WHEN	OUTPUT
Desk research	Market reports, regulator guidance, app-store reviews of insurance apps	—	Week 1	Hypotheses H1–H6, journey map
Competitive review	6 insurance, bank and insurtech apps (buy, pay, claim flows)	6 apps	Week 1	Pattern library, gaps
User interviews	Adults 25–55 in Bangkok and upcountry; owners and non-owners of a policy	8–10 × 45 min	Weeks 2–3	Validated personas, needs
Survey	Plan preferences, payment habits, claim experience	n ≈ 150	Week 3	Priorities, segment sizes
Usability test	Clickable prototype S01–S25, 5 tasks, think-aloud	8 people	Weeks 4–5	Issues by severity, SUS
Synthesis	Affinity map, revise personas, journey and flows	Team	Week 6	Design changes, backlog

USABILITY TEST TASKS

	TASK	SCREENS	TARGET SUCCESS
T1	Get a quote for ฿1,000,000 whole-life cover	S04	≥ 90%
T2	Sign up with your ID card and a selfie	S22 → S23	≥ 85%
T3	Pay this year's premium with PromptPay	S08 → S10	≥ 90%
T4	Split your beneficiaries 50 / 50	S15 → S16	≥ 80%
T5	File an outpatient claim, then check its status	S17 → S19 · S25	≥ 80%

SUS score	Ease per task (SEQ)	Critical issues
≥ 75	≥ 5.5 / 7	0

HYPOTHESES → DESIGN From desk research and the journey map. Each one is tested in interviews and the usability test.

H1 Jargon blocks comparison

People can't tell whole life, savings and term apart, so they stall at the plan step.

DESIGN RESPONSE

Plain-language plan tabs, benefit chips, live premium card

S04 Measure: % who pick a plan without help

H2 Hidden prices stop people starting

"Contact an agent for a quote" makes people leave.

DESIGN RESPONSE

Instant quote with sum-insured slider, yearly and monthly cost

S04 Measure: Quote → apply conversion

H3 Health questions cause fear of rejection

Unsure answers lead to drop-off or guessing.

DESIGN RESPONSE

Yes/No questions, helper text, save and resume

S06 Measure: Drop-off on step 2 of 4

H4 Identity checks feel risky online

People worry about fraud and data misuse during sign-up.

DESIGN RESPONSE

eKYC ID scan, face match score, PDPA consent in plain words

S22 · S03 · S23 Measure: eKYC completion rate

H5 Policies lapse because due dates are missed

Yearly payments are easy to forget.

DESIGN RESPONSE

Due-date card on Home, reminders, PromptPay QR, auto-debit

S08 · S09 · S11 Measure: On-time renewal rate

H6 Claims feel slow and opaque

Paper documents and no progress updates cause calls and complaints.

S17–S20 · S25 Measure: Calls per claim, CSAT

PERSONAS · OONJAI LIFE

Proto-personas

Three proto-personas built from desk research and team knowledge. Names and details are illustrative; replace them with interview findings in weeks 2–3.

● Hypotheses · to validate with users

SJ · PRIMARY PERSONA · Somjai Jaidee, 34

"If something happened to me, would my daughter be okay?"

Married, one daughter (5)

GOALS
- Protect her daughter's future with enough cover
- Understand the plan without an agent's sales pitch
- Pay and manage everything on her phone

FRUSTRATIONS
- Insurance words feel confusing and salesy
- Afraid a claim will be rejected on a technicality
- Forgets yearly due dates when busy

BEHAVIOURS
- Uses mobile banking and PromptPay every day
- Reads reviews and asks friends before buying
- Compares prices on two or three apps

Tech comfort 4 / 5 · Trust in insurers 2 / 5 · Price sensitivity 3 / 5

DESIGNED FOR THEM

S04	Plain plan tabs and a live quote
S11	Due-date card and reminders
S17–S19	Claim tracker with clear steps

AK · SECONDARY PERSONA · Anan Kittisak, 26

Freelance graphic designer · Chiang Mai

"I want cover that fits a freelancer's budget, and the tax deduction too."

Single, supports his parents

GOALS
- Affordable health and life cover with no employer plan
- Claim the yearly tax deduction easily
- Sign up fully online, today

FRUSTRATIONS
- Irregular income makes yearly premiums feel heavy
- Long forms and branch visits
- Not sure which plan suits someone his age

BEHAVIOURS
- Mobile-first; finishes tasks in one sitting
- Pays by card to collect points
- Expects instant answers in chat

Tech comfort 5 / 5 · Trust in insurers 3 / 5 · Price sensitivity 5 / 5

DESIGNED FOR THEM

S22–S23	eKYC sign-up in minutes
S24	Card payment, save card for renewals
S21	Tax certificate in Account

MS · SECONDARY PERSONA · Malee Srisuk, 52

Owns a grocery shop · Khon Kaen

"My agent helps me, but I want to see my claim myself."

Married, two adult children

GOALS
- Keep two existing policies active
- Claim hospital costs without paperwork trips
- Change beneficiaries as her family changes

FRUSTRATIONS
- Small text and too many steps on phone apps
- Has to call the agent to know a claim's status
- Worries about typing ID numbers online

BEHAVIOURS
- Uses LINE and her bank app; asks her son for help
- Prefers to talk to a real person
- Keeps paper receipts in a folder

Tech comfort 2 / 5 · Trust in insurers 3 / 5 · Price sensitivity 2 / 5

DESIGNED FOR THEM

S13	My agent: call, LINE, hotline
S16	Simple beneficiary shares with OTP
